This wonderful country retreat is a balance of modern design, a wellness mindset, and timeless craftsmanship with every attention to detail. Milling trees from the property to construct the barn using the masterful post-and-beam construction method, creating intricate joints without nails.

The current owner has meticulously updated the home in Union Vale which offers notably lower school taxes, adding to the appeal of this exceptional property. The first floor boasts a light-filled, two-story foyer, leading into a great room with soaring beamed ceilings, a gathering room with illuminated coffered ceilings, and a gourmet kitchen with a spacious walk-in pantry. The first-floor primary suite offers a luxurious bathroom and private terrace, while a cozy library with custom bookshelves provides a quiet retreat.

Outdoor amenities abound: the newly installed 20 x 50 heated saltwater gunite pool is designed with a gentle slope from an easy-entry 3.5-foot section to an 8+ feet deep, diveable end. The pool is fitted with an automatic cover. Nearby, an 8-person hot tub with infrared lighting above for warmth, also a rustic 6-person barrel sauna overlooking the pond and cleared land.

There are newly planted cherry blossom trees spanning a .25-mile road, ideal for running or strolls, along with over 2,000 flower bulbs throughout the property and six raised garden beds, producing ample fresh produce for a single family. The main home also includes an oversized insulated and newly finished shed,

The Adirondack-style barn has been fully transformed into an insulated, year-round entertainment barn. The 3,500-square-foot space includes a rock climbing wall, split-unit HVAC for both heating and cooling comfort, and a gold pea-pebbled recreation area just behind it, perfect for gatherings. Multiple bluestone terraces throughout the property provide versatile spaces for relaxation and socializing, creating a unique retreat experience on this nearly 10-acre estate.

Additional features include a geothermal heating system, radiant heat, a heated garage, a new copper gutter system, and updated roofs on both the main house and barn, making this home turnkey. The propane system efficiently supports the water heater, gas range, and serves as a backup heating system for the brand-new boiler in the barn, adding resilience and convenience. The property is equipped with electric outlets for RV or electric vehicle charging and sits just six minutes from Millbrook Village, six minutes from the Links Golf Club, one hour from Catamount Ski Mountain, and 1.5 hours from Manhattan.
